

IR SEMINAR SERIES

INSIGHTS INTO EFFECTIVE INVESTOR RELATIONS

26th (Thu) & 27th (Fri)
September 2019

Holiday Inn Singapore
Orchard City Centre

2-day Training Seminar

With so many investment options today, companies are finding it hard to distinguish themselves to the investment community. Few companies can afford big investor relations (IR) teams and even fewer can allocate big IR budgets. Yet, with increasing competition for funds in the capital markets and a recent SMU-IRPAS study showing that fund managers do pay a premium for good IR practices, companies cannot afford to ignore IR.

As a relatively new profession, there is a significant shortage of experienced IROs across Asia. What Asian companies require are well-trained IROs who are equipped with the proper 'soft skills' for effective financial communications in today's global capital markets, from an Asian perspective. IROs are important, but often untapped, information source to help management to better position their companies and improve their investment image. But who can IROs, including CEOs and CFOs, turn to?

"This course helps me have a much clearer picture of the depth, complexity, challenges, and excitement in the IR profession. Great course. Excellent Trainer!"

"BEST training and trainer I have ever attended. Kudos! Great seminar! Bravo! I enjoyed the workshop and actual materials."

INSIGHTS INTO EFFECTIVE INVESTOR RELATIONS

This course highlights the need for practical and effective training for today's IROs. The 2-day seminar will train IROs to better handle their challenges as important financial communicators. The training will, through a series of presentations, case studies and group discussions, empower IROs with practical tools to enhance their effectiveness despite limited resources.

They will have the opportunity to tap real life experiences and insights from a course trainer who has ran investor relations for several years in one of the largest, most widely covered and arguably most complicated companies listed on the Singapore Exchange, and have met thousands of fund managers around the world in the process.

Bonus Gift!

Free special edition Logitech Wireless Mouse (with advanced tracking and nano receiver!) for each participant for group registrations of two and above only.
